

ATELIER OLGATI
FALL SEMESTER 2021
ASSISTANTS SOFIA ALBRIGO, LAJDI SULAJ

The atelier supervision with our students takes place on Monday and Tuesday. This will be coordinated and adapted to the student's timetable.

Each student develops a project starting from a given generic topic - as for example "public space", "tower", "wood" - that becomes the motto of the atelier for the whole semester. This semester we propose one topic.

The students will discuss this topic with one of two teaching assistants on a weekly basis. The weekly desk-critiques are followed by a public discussion with the students led by the Professor.

The motto is conceived so to be a source of common inspiration for the development of the project which has to be precise and at the same time free.

Each parameter of the project - for example site and program - is part of the choices that each student individually takes to develop his own interpretation of the motto.

Each student can therefore decide independently if to work on a small-scale project and focus on a single object, or to confront with a large-scale intervention.
